St Philips Greenway-Whitchurch Railway Path

St Philips Greenway

Temple Quay

A Queen Square

B This section of the Brunel Mile was opened in early 2008 as part of the celebrations of 200 years since the birth of Isambard Kingdom Brunel.

C The original Temple Meads station immediately abuts the main road. This was built in 1840 by Brunel and is the oldest surviving railway terminus in the world.

D The St Philips Greenway is a haven for wildlife and tranquillity in the heart of the city.

E The former Brislington Depot of Bristol Tramways.

F Whitchurch Railway Path runs along the line of the former Bristol & North Somerset Railway. This line ran between Bristol and Frome, but closed in 1968.

G Horseworld is a charitable organisation that cares for neglected horses, ponies and donkeys. You can pay an entrance fee to have a look around (and support the charity) or just stop at the café for a rest. Visit www.horseworld.org.uk for more information.

H The Stockwood Greenway runs through Stockwood Nature Reserve, which is a preserved area of old farmland.
